

I have a very long border with Germany. This makes my country vulnerable to an attack.

Germany refused to renew our Re-Insurance Treaty. This makes me suspicious about her future actions.

I have a border with Germany and Austria her ally. I am worried that I might have to fight both of these countries.

Germany attacked me once, defeated me and made me sign a humiliating peace treaty. I am worried that this might happen again.

My people are desperate to get revenge on Germany.

Germany has an alliance with Austria and I am alone. An ally on the eastern borders of these countries would help to protect me from them.

All the other countries of Europe have allies. I am beginning to worry about being left out and isolated.

I have settled my disagreements with the French over territories in Africa. An agreement with the French seems like a sensible next step.

The Kaiser says he wants Germany to have a “place in the sun”. He really means an overseas Empire. I am worried that he might try to take territory away from my Empire
